

Hawk Mountain Sanctuary

Hawk Mountain Sanctuary has created a 10-day immerse course for teens aged 15 to 17 based on service-learning as an intense residential field course. The price tag is high, as it is a serious curriculum that connects participants with a range of Ph.D.-level scientists, leaders in the conservation field, and college-level educators.

The exciting news is that, thanks to two amazing donors, generous full and partial scholarships are available. Participants may be local, regional, or out of state.

Please let me know if you can recommend and/or share this with an outstanding young person you believe would benefit from this type of mentoring across a broad set of outdoor and conservation skills. We're seeking young men and women who are considering a future career in conservation. Each participant will leave the program with a letter of recommendation from Hawk Mountain Sanctuary and a certificate of completion, along with an impressive accomplishment to list on his or her college application and resume.

Please share the link with any eagle scout, past program participant, CIT, leadership student, or other self-motivated young person who is passionate about the outdoors and who you think would be interested: <https://www.hawkmountain.org/news/education/new-appalachian-ecology-course>.

Also, please forward to anyone you think could help identify an ideal participant. Many thanks you for your time
